i-LOCK provides flexible access control solutions, fine-tuned to need, application and convenience.

Advances in technology have revolutionised traditional locking control solutions. Whilst remaining commercially closer to traditional mechanical solutions, improvements in battery and wireless communication now position electronic locks as a viable alternative to costly hardwired access control solutions.

- i-LOCK is a highly flexible system with multiple trim and hardware arrangements made possible from a standard base model.
- i-LOCK can be configured using a simple system of cards, software on a PC or tablet via wireless access points, or even by a smartphone APP.
